

DISAGREE AS TO A VERDICT

Goes Forty-Eight Hours Without Finding Any Verdict In This Important Case.

RUMORS RIFE REGARDING VOTE

The Thaw jury has disagreed.
New York, April 12.—At 4:15 Judge Fitzgerald sent for Jerome and defendant's counsel.
The jury was called into court at 4:25.
At 4:31 p. m. the jury reported that it could not agree and the jury was then discharged.
Evelyn Thaw immediately went to the prisoner's pen to her husband. Court adjourned.
Shortly after the jury was discharged it was reported that the final vote showed a division of seven for murder in the first degree and five for acquittal.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, April 12.—Judge Fitzgerald's court was in a state of practical siege all day. The would-be spectators arrived early. They crowded into the building and as near the courtroom as possible. The blue coats on guard had as much trouble keeping them in place as they had at any time during the long trial itself. The arrival of the Thaw family was a signal for redoubled efforts on the part of the curious who sought to catch a glimpse of the near relatives of the prisoner. The guards had all been doubled about the jury room, probably owing to the fact that repeated reports have been made current relative to the standing of the jury at different times in the last thirty-six hours. It is doubtful if anyone knew how the vote stood at any time, but the reports that apparently had good grounds for being believed, kept continually filtering through the crowd and even into the courtroom itself. The jurors themselves do not look half as tired as do the lawyers and spectators. Their hard vigil has apparently had no effects upon them. They went out for breakfast this morning, but had their dinner brought to them in the jury room. They all looked as though they were decidedly "mused up" when seen early this morning, but were all cheerful. Judge Fitzgerald, however, is careworn and shows plainly the strain. The Thaw family were early at the courtrooms and had their luncheon brought to them as in the past days. The long delay has told upon them and their hopes for a speedy verdict dashed to the ground has left them in despair. The neighborhood of the court building is thronged with the curious throng that fill every store, restaurant and saloon to the limit. All wait impatiently for the verdict. The betting is rife. Large sums of money have been won and lost. It is still a matter of amounts rather than odds. Harry Thaw has packed his belongings at the Tombs and is ready to leave at once. It is easier for him to unpack than to do nothing. The trial has cost the state thus far in the neighborhood of $100,000 and the Thaws a million.
Rumors of the possible standing of the jury are heard on every side. Dis-

FACTS ON QUARREL THAT LED TO SHOTS

Rock County Banner Gives Following
Account of Shooting at Clinton
Tuesday.
In this week's issue of the Rock County Banner the following account of the shooting mentioned in last evening's Gazette is given as follows:
A genuine shooting affair that occurred Tuesday in the village has furnished a more than ordinary prolific subject for discussion among our citizens. The principals in the affair are Frank Hartzel and Jack McCann both men being employees of the Smith & Holman Mfg. Co.
McCann came to Clinton last September and has been a boarder at Hartzel's during the time he has lived here. Mrs. Hartzel's father, Lewis Gilbertson, also makes his home with his daughter. To all appearances harmony has prevailed in the family.
Tuesday noon when Mr. Hartzel returned from the country where he had been setting out trees, he and McCann got into a dispute that led to abusive language and finally resulted in Hartzel procuring a revolver and firing at the house. McCann dropped to the floor at once, and Mrs. Hartzel, who was a witness to the shooting fled in terror across the street to the residence of Dr. W. Jones where she summoned help fortunately finding McCann at home. The two immediately returned to the Hartzel home and the doctor finding McCann on his feet and able to walk assisted him to his office in his residence. A hasty examination by the doctor indicated the man was not seriously hurt. The bullet, which was of 32 caliber struck McCann's right cheek bone from which it glanced plowing under the skin and narrowly missing the opening into the ear. Back of the ear it struck the skull bone from which it deflected downward where its location somewhere in the neck could not be determined.
After having the wound in his face dressed and reflecting on what had occurred, McCann seemed anxious to leave town and accordingly left the doctor's office and is believed to have caught the 12:45 train going east.
Hartzel refused to talk about the

COLLEGE HEADS ON CARNEGIE PROGRAM

Forty Presidents of Higher Education al Institutions Participated in Dedicatory Ceremonies.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Pittsburg, April 12.—The ceremonies attending the dedication of the Carnegie Institute were continued this morning with the presentation of addresses of congratulation from universities and learned societies throughout the world. Those taking part in the program included the presidents or other representatives of more than two-score of American colleges and scientific societies and several in Europe. One of the most notable features of the entire program will be the banquet at the Hotel Schenley tonight in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Carnegie. Covers will be laid for 200 guests, and the invitation list has been limited almost exclusively to the guests of honor at the dedication of the Carnegie Institute, including the party of 40 notables from Europe, and their wives and other members of their families who accompany them.
ADD PITTSBURG
At the afternoon ceremonies in connection with the re-dedication of the Carnegie Institute a number of addresses were delivered, including Sir Robert Ball of England, Prof. Chalmers Mitchell of England, Dr. John Ross of Scotland, Sir William Henry Preece of England, and William T. Stead, also of England.

TWO N-W. FREIGHT CARS SPLINTERED

Train Off Afton Branch Backed into String of Cars on Siding
—No One Injured.
Two freight cars, one a flat and the other a box, were nearly demolished in a small wreck in the Janesville yards of the Chicago & North-Western railway early yesterday afternoon. A Madison division freight in charge of Engineer Wilcox and Engineer Ebert came into the city off the Afton branch and after the caboose had been cut off was backed down onto a siding. The track contained a small string of cars and a rear-end collision resulted. A flat car telescoped a box car loaded with lumber before the train could be brought to a standstill. The local wrecking crew was upon the scene immediately and the remains of the flat car were loaded and shipped to the Chicago shops while the box car was emptied and is to be sent before night.
Another small crash occurred this morning. Switch-engine number 48 backed into an incoming freight, bending the footboard brackets on the switch-engine and splintering the pilot on the freight engine.

CANNIBALISM IN CHINESE CITIES

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Shanghai, April 12.—Telegrams received here from twenty points in the famine district report the conditions as growing worse. A few cases of rioting for food have occurred and cannibalism is beginning to be reported. Newly made graves have been rifled of bodies and parents are exchanging their children to be eaten. The situation is desperate and Americans are urged to give three million dollars in the next three weeks.

BOTTLE OF POWDER EXPLODED, FILLING OPTICS AND FACE

Albert Arneson Narrowly Escaped
Losing Eyesight in Accident
Late Yesterday Afternoon.
Albert Arneson, a youth of sixteen or seventeen years who lives on a farm several miles from the city, was the victim of an accidental explosion of powder about five o'clock yesterday afternoon and narrowly escaped losing the sight of both eyes. He was carrying the powder in a bottle when a spark fell within. The glass flask was blown into atoms and disappeared; the burned powder flew with terrific force in every direction and a large part of it was buried in both eyeballs and the face of young Arneson. He was hurried to the city and operated upon by Drs. E. F. Woods and J. P. Thorne. Numerous specks of powder were removed from the left optic and several from the right. It was almost miraculous that the eyesight was not destroyed immediately. It is now believed that the injury will not be permanent. Myriads of powder specks were also taken from the forehead, nose and cheeks and treatment of burns was necessary. The flash having singed off the eye-brows and lashes and scorched the flesh.

cese of Episcopal Church for Nearly Twenty-Two Years.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Fond du Lac, Wis., April 12.—Bishop Grafton, who has been the head of the Episcopal diocese of Fond du Lac for nearly twenty-two years, was seventy-seven years old today. Bishop Grafton is a native of Boston and a graduate of Harvard. He is one of the few Episcopal clergymen in America who wear the clerical garb as it is worn by churchmen in England. Under his long black coat and over his vest he wears a long silk cloth that reaches to the knees, and he wears tight knee breeches and high silk leg- gins, fastened down the side by rows of big black buttons.

MODERN LUCESIAN CONDEMNED TO DIE

Used Arsenic and Buried Victims'
Bodies in Graveyard Containing Arsenical Ores.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Berlin, April 12.—Frau Ernestine Feige, of Grunau, in the Silesian Mountains, has been condemned to death for poisoning a man named Janitsek, and a woman named Brueckner, who had lived with her as lodgers. She was also charged with poisoning in four other cases, two of her alleged victims being her mother-in-law and sister-in-law, but as these four cases went back seven years there was some uncertainty as to whether the ex- humes bodies showed traces of poison. Frau Feige has been called the Silesian Lucresia Borgia, and the trial revealed that she had many points in common with the famous Roman poisoner. In all the cases it was the desire to become possessed of her victim's money which drove her to her terrible crimes. She used arsenic in all cases, in this displaying great cunning, for the entire district in which she lived is arsenic producing, and the graveyard in which her victims were buried was in special degree impregnated with arsenical ores.

The attendance of delegates is large and the program one of unusual excellence. Several associations from other states are on the program for addresses. The reports of the various officers and commit- tees indicate active work on the part of the local associations during the past year. Plans will be discussed for an active campaign throughout the western section of the state during the ensuing year, with the organiza- tion of new locals wherever practi- cable.

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP TOPIC OF DEBATES

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., April 12.—That the interests of the people will be best subserved by the government ownership and control of interstate railways was debated this afternoon by teams representing George Wash- ington University and the university of North Carolina. The contest took place in the Belasco Theatre and attracted a large crowd of auditors. North Carolina supported the affirma- tive and George Washington Univer- sity the negative side of the question.
Inter-state Discussion
Athens, Ga., April 12.—The annual debate between representatives of the university of North Carolina and uni- versity of Georgia takes place here this evening and promises to be one of the most interesting events of the col- lege year. Georgia has the affirmative and Carolina the negative side of the proposition: "Resolved, That the own- ership and operation of interstate rail- way lines by the government would subserve the best interests of the people of the United States." This is the tenth debate between the two in- stitutions. Out of the nine that have been held the university of North Carolina has won six.

GEORGIA ROADS TO FIGHT REDUCTION

Increased Cost of Operation Will Result in Hot War Against Farmers' Union.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Atlanta, Ga., April 12.—Georgia rail- roads are planning bitter opposition against any lowering of the present tariff schedules and it is expected that this opposition will first make its manifest tomorrow when the state railroad commission will take the petition of the Georgia Farmers' Union asking for a reduction in rail- road passenger rates. It is understood that it will be contended by the roads that the railroads of the south in gen- eral and of Georgia in particular will not be able to bear any reduction of rates on account of present conditions, especially the heavy increase in op- erating expenses. The Farmers' Union desires a flat two-cent rate, though it leaves the amount of the reduction en- tirely with the state commission.

Mrs. Alice Nicholson returned from Eldorado, Kas. last Monday evening to Janesville, left a large telescope with the baggage man, surrendering his duplicate check and stating that he would send for it later that night or the next morning. Baggage man Noyes took the check off after he had placed the parcel in the baggage-room and about five minutes later, as was his custom, left the station. When Mr. Tallman got his telescope the next day he claims that it had been opened and merchandise worth nearly a hun- dred dollars taken therefrom. He sued in Justice Earle's court and the case has been taken up on appeal to cir- cuit court, where it is being tried be- fore Judge Grimm today. Geo. G. Sutherland and Claude Hendricks re- presented the plaintiff and T. S. Nolan, the defendant.

ESCH APPEARS TO GAIN IN VOTES AS DAYS GO ALONG

La Crosse Man Is Now Said To Be The Choice Of Some Forty-Five Members.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., April 12.—Congress- man John J. Esch of La Crosse has grown to be the strongest candidate for the United States senator to suc- ceed Senator Spooner, and mighty ef- forts are being put forth by the La Follette people to defeat him. Esch's followers have apparently formed a strong combination with the Davidson- Connor members and have assur- edes of stalwart votes, so that they claim Esch will be nominated on the first ballot of the republican caucus Monday night. The Stephenson stock meanwhile has slumped.
Admit Strength
La Follette people admit this com- bination has strength of about 45 votes, while 52 in the republican can- cibus will nominate. A counter-mov- ement to get Lenroot to withdraw in favor of Stephenson, Cooper or Hat- ten, and help beat Esch is being made. There will be no more at- tempts at a conference, the next busi- ness being the party caucus. The Connor and Esch people are manifest- ly in good spirits.
Kill the "Sheets"
The Barker "wide bed sheets" bill was killed by the assembly today on a vote of 46 to 36. The assembly passed the bill to appropriate $1,000 to send the Fond du Lac militia com- pany to the Jamestown exposition, the action following a series of spread- eagle efforts at oratory.
Senate's Action
The senate debated the bill to give the state the right of appeal from adverse decision in criminal cases, so as to have the supreme court pass on questions of law involved. The bill went back to the judiciary com- mittee for amendment.

imas Dedicated At National Cemetery At Arlington.

Washington, D. C., April 12.—Sev- eral thousand persons today visited the National cemetery at Arlington, where with music and oratory, a handsome shaft was unveiled in memory of the Rough Riders whose bodies lie at rest beside the soldiers of the Civil War. The address of the day was deliv- ered by President Roosevelt, who paid glowing tribute to the bravery, patriot- ism and sacrifice of his former com- rades in arms.
The unveiling of this monument was preceded by a military parade to the cemetery. The marchers included the local camps of the Spanish war veterans, the Grand Army organiza- tions of Washington and vicinity, in- fantry, cavalry and artillery from the local garisons, and numerous patriot- ic and semi-military societies.

..Forty Years Ago..

Janesville Daily Gazette, Friday, April 12, 1867.—A Good Thing to Do.—Sheriff Putnam has put his hand to the work of arresting a gang of boys which is prowling about the streets and learning and practicing all sorts of mischief. Two or three of the company are already in jail and it will not be long before the others are keeping them company.

Something of a Drop.—Wheat fell in this market yesterday, full fifty cents per bushel. The advance had been so rapid and therefore unhealthy, that we expected to hear something drop at an early day, but did not look for such a tumble. It brings a tolerably good price yet.

Let Us Have a Good One.—There is nothing this year to divert the attention of the people of Rock county from their county fair, and we therefore hope they will have a rouser. It has already been decided to have one, and we learn that measures are on foot to unite if possible the efforts of the Rock County Agricultural Society and the Driving Park Association, and thus secure the combined interest of these organizations. Whatever is done, let use have a good time.

Commendable Energy and Enterprise.—Our citizens will remember the conflagration on the race last winter, which destroyed the establishment of Messrs. Morse & Hanson and the mill of Mr. McChesney. For a number of weeks it was quite doubtful if the first named firm would rebuild at all but finally arrangements were made to put up a new manufactory. Work upon this was commenced in good earnest, and in little more than five weeks the building itself was up and most of the necessary machinery for manufacturing was put in. We stopped into their building yesterday and found some ten or a dozen men already at work getting out furniture, and very soon the number will be doubled. This is quick work and exhibits great energy on the part of Messrs. Morse & Hanson & Co., which no doubt will insure them complete success. They have purchased their lot on the race—60 feet front—with water power, have most superior facilities for manufacturing, and will turn out as good furniture as can be found in this or any other state.

SHORT TALKS BY L. T. COOPER.

DEBILITY.

E. McDade.

Many people who talk to me say: "I feel half sick all the time. I don't just know what's the matter with me." This is general debility. It's very common. People who get in this shape have my sympathy. They aren't sick enough for bed so they drag around and their families get exasperated with them.

There are two causes for this condition; bad habits and a weak stomach. "By bad habits I mean eating irregularly and too fast and not chewing the food thoroughly. The stomach gives out and loss of appetite, biliousness, constipation, and general debility result. First get the stomach in shape and then be more careful in the future, and the worn out, despondent, half sick feeling will be a thing of the past.

Two bottles of Cooper's New Discovery will put the stomach in shape. Common sense will do the rest. There are fifty thousand people in this country who know this to be true because they've tried it.

Here's a letter from one of them:

"I was all run down from overwork, lost ambition and energy and could not sleep. It was difficult for me to attend to my work owing to that tired-out feeling. I secured two bottles of the New Discovery medicine and determined to try it. The result delighted me for renewed strength and vigor and energy came with the first few doses. It's effect was different from anything I had ever taken. I finished the two bottles now and feel well and strong again." E. McDade, 539 Dix Ave., Detroit, Mich.

We hear favorable reports of these famous medicines every day. Ask us about them.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

Threatening and colder tonight with snow flurries near Lake Superior, Saturday fair.

GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP

When Mr. Bryan landed in New York, on his return from an extended trip abroad, an ovation was tendered him which was only eclipsed by Dewey's reception. Democrats from all over the country flocked to greet him, and many people felt that President Roosevelt insulted him, declining to be present.

The great wave of popularity received a sudden setback, however, as soon as the democratic leader opened his mouth and declared himself on government ownership of railroads, and his admirers straggled back home, disgusted and disappointed.

The spectacular trip from New York to Nebraska was abandoned, and the silver-tongued orator was permitted to go his own way and ponder at leisure. No other man would have dropped from sight completely, but the nation has produced but one Bryan and he is a stayer.

After modifying and explaining his attitude on the railroad question, and claiming to be the Aaron of the republican party, and more especially of the President, he managed to keep himself in the limelight, and the only question yet to be decided in his mind is, whether he will present Roosevelt's name or his own at the national democratic convention.

Bryan seldom abandons a reform idea, and so he continues to be an advocate of government ownership, of less pronounced type perhaps, than formerly, but still believing it to be the only remedy for corporate evils. The Wall Street Journal recently wrote him for his views on the subject, and his reply appears in a late issue, in which the following points are brought out:

"Not an immediate issue, but an ultimate solution."

"He was led to discuss the subject in 1904 in order to encourage the progressive democrats to remain with the party, feeling sure that the ascendancy of the reactionary element would be temporary."

"He advocated the dual plan (federal ownership of trunk lines and state ownership of local roads) in order to give the country the benefit of government ownership without the danger of centralization."

"The system should be inaugurated gradually."

"It is probable that a commencement would be made with one transcontinental line with a possible cross line."

"The lines could be bought or built as the government officials think best."

"Has not decided upon what basis the government should buy."

"It might buy a controlling interest."

"No sudden change is contemplated."

"No confiscation is proposed; no injustice to investors."

It will be readily seen that his scheme is as full of holes as a skimmer. While theoretically it may seem plausible, yet it is as impractical and visionary as many other schemes exploited by the Nebraska statesman.

The thinking and sensible people of the country are not opposed to reasonable government regulation, but they are not yet prepared to invest their money in public utilities. The government is showing incapacity every day in administering the limited lines of business which it now controls, and there is no disposition, on the part of the people to enlarge.

The government is maintained for the purpose of governing, and not for the purpose of engaging in private business. It is busily engaged today in an effort to regulate trusts and combines, but these would sink into insignificance when compared to centralization of power which would result from government ownership. This move would be a long stride backward, and the first evidence of imbecility.

WHAT TO SAY

What to say and how to say it, in a newspaper advertisement, is a problem which confronts all wide-awake businessmen. These questions are answered by Ben B. Hampton in the Grand Rapids Herald, in a manner so convincing and conclusive that it is well worth reading. It is addressed to the businessmen of the Michigan city, but is so terse and full of good suggestions that it applies with equal force to all localities. Mr. Hampton says:

"A lot of retail merchants here in Grand Rapids are so close to their job they can't see some sides of it half as well as the man across the road. A good many of them can't see anything in newspaper advertising except the first cost of it and the evident successes made by their competitors have made of it. Any man who can buy groceries or padlocks or shirts or horses and sell them at a profit can sell more groceries or padlocks or shirts or horses, by simply telling all the people who read the Grand Rapids Herald that he's got the things they want at the price they want to pay."

"What do you suppose the people read in that paper anyhow?" The news! You're right it's the news; and don't you forget that the women folks consider the live advertisements as news, too. After the births and marriages they turn to the store news almost every time."

"What to say in a newspaper advertisement isn't such a fearful problem as some folks think—nor how to say it. If it sounds like you the style is all right. You had a good reason for buying in that last lot of goods, or you wouldn't have done it. All right. Say the same things the salesman said when he sold them to you. He thought it worth while. You were interested—and a lot of people who have never been inside of your store will just be as much interested as you were."

"You don't need to do something startling to make people read your news. If you bought something at an exceptionally comfortable figure, just say so—and make the manufacturers give you a wood cut so that you can come just as near as possible to spreading out the goods along with the story of them."

"If your business is built up on the plan of keeping your promises and making none that you can't keep—for goodness' sake say so, and keep on saying so."

"If you have been building all along upon the plan of giving every customer a square deal, remind them of it! Pretty soon you will be doing business with a plenty of people who have been getting some other kind of a deal somewhere else."

"If you run a store that is spotlessly clean—say it; sing it; print it in the Herald and you'll find a lot of people in town who regard cleanliness as next to godliness or may be better."

"If you make it a special point to see that your sales-folks never get 'fresh' or sour with customers—or if you take pains to employ clerks who know their work from A to Z and back again—Man alive, that's all news—news that people find mighty scarce too!"

"Get into print! Don't let any man or woman in town forget that you are right there with the goods."

"Tell your store news right along and pretty soon you will have people looking for it—and that means you will have more and more news to tell all the time."

"In the Herald. Not on smelly doggers. Do you read doggers? There's just one thing you take time for, whether you have any time or not—that's the reading of your daily paper. Other people are most remarkably like you. They'll dodge doggers; they'll ignore everything but the news when they have anything to keep them busy. Get your news circulated as news and you'll get it read."

The democrats of Tennessee are for Roosevelt in 1908. At a meeting recently held in Chattanooga, the chairman suggested that Mr. Bryan present his name to the democratic convention. Mr. Bryan, who was present, said that under certain conditions he might do this, but he believed the Ex-Governor of Wisconsin should lead the republican forces.

He was standing on a chair in his pajamas, reaching up to capture a curtain which had got the best of him. He didn't swear because he was too busy, and then his wife, who was engineering the job, objected to profanity. A voice from the side walked with a cheerful "Ah there," interrupted proceedings, and the curtain stayed up all night. "Gentle spring" is not so docile as painted.

The Illinois legislature has voted to increase the salary of the members to $2,000, while the Wisconsin contingent is likely to agree on half that amount. If the sessions are to be six months long the law makers are entitled to more pay. The off year when they are not in session is also worth something to the state.

What will be the next sensation? Congress has adjourned, the Ananias club has retired from the field and the Thaw trial is over, unless Bryan proceeds to do a few stunts, the outlook for summer news is not flattering.

Delmas, the California criminal lawyer, made a ten strike in his brilliant plea for Harry Thaw. He has won a national reputation from which he will profit for years to come.

This is the time of year when the head of the house is made to realize that there is more dirt in the parlor than on the street. What a blessing it is that man has a helpmate.

ALL SPOKE WELL OF THE WORK

In a little conversation recently a lady said:

"Dr. Richards, a queer coincidence occurred a little while ago at a party I attended.

"A number of us ladies were sitting together in the corner and we spoke of having just been to the dentist's."

"Where did you go?" one asked.

"To Dr. Richards," was the reply.

"Why, that's my dentist," said she.

"He does my work too," spoke up a third.

"Mine too," said the fourth.

"And mine," said the fifth.

"And sure enough," all five ladies were patients of Dr. Richards.

"Well," said Dr. Richards, "what did they say as to my work?"

"They all liked your work and spoke well of you," she replied.

And why shouldn't they?

For no dentist takes more pains to avoid hurting than he.

No dentist does better work.

No dentist is more reasonable in his charges.

Such a combination ought to make people speak well of his work.

PUTZKUHN CASE WAS DISMISSED

MAN ARRESTED FOR MAKING THREATS DISCHARGED.

JUDGE FIFIELD'S DECISION

Court Found Evidence Insufficient to Warrant Placing Him Under Bonds to Keep the Peace.

One indirect line of investigation to determine the identity of the parties implicated in the attempt to plug the Northwestern derail switch at Anderson's Crossing, the shooting of Detective John W. Cowan by the C. M. & St. P. Ry. Co. secret service on the night of March 21, and the repeated destruction of signal lights, cutting of wires, and disabling of the semaphore which had occurred prior to that time, was brought to an end this noon with the discharge of August Putzkahn, former lever-man in the tower who was placed under arrest some time ago on the charge of making threats during the month of December to shoot Engineer Ross Dunwiddie or ditch his train.

District Attorney John L. Fisher for the prosecution and Atty. John Cunningham for the defense offered their arguments to the court shortly after eleven o'clock. The former laid great stress on the gravity of the crime committed; the fact that Putzkahn had made certain statements the morning afterward to the effect that the detective had been shot by a man crouching behind a telephone pole; and when asked to explain the source of this detailed information had declared that his wife read it to him from the morning paper, whereas, no such detailed information was set forth in the published article referred to nor did it appear in print until the appearance of the Gazette that evening; the fact that the tampering with the switch was done by someone familiar with the mechanism, as evidenced by the testimony of Anderson, the night operator, that a nail had been driven through the chain and the wire kept taut so that it would not show back in the signal tower; the fact that the interference with the switchlights first began soon after the defendant had been relieved of the care of those belonging to the St. Paul and that the other depredations occurred soon after he left the employ of the Northwestern; and the threats against Dunwiddie.

Atty. John Cunningham in the rebuttal argued that instead of having any feeling against the company, Putzkahn was already looking for other work and actually wanted to get out of the tower, so that he could have his Sundays at home, at the time his place was given to another; that admitting he was in some confusion of mind as to where he first heard of the circumstances of the shooting, it was a very characteristic phase of the weakness likely to be manifested by anyone who was not by profession and training a close observer; that he had never been in trouble, spent his nights at home, never possessed a revolver; that there was not a particle of testimony to connect him in any reasonable way with the crime; that it would be a monstrous thing to make a finding of a criminal character, even to requiring of him bonds to keep the peace as asked for by the district attorney.

In summing up the case Judge Fifield said that it had been necessary for the prosecution to show two things: (1) that threats had been made; (2) that there was just and reasonable cause for apprehension that they would be carried into effect. The court entertained no doubt but that the threatening words were spoken. But whatever had been done since that time seemed to have been direct, not particularly against Engineer Dunwiddie but rather against the railroad company. It was true that circumstances were very peculiar in that none of the depredations took place until after the defendant had ceased to be employed by the company and that there had been no repetitions since the shooting on the night of March 21, but this in itself was no proof. The single circumstance which seemed to have direct bearing on the case was the statement attributed to Putzkahn on the morning following the shooting, but denied by him on the witness stand. This circumstance seemed to the court to be of some weight and Judge Fifield said that if there was anything to corroborate it he should feel it his duty to hold the defendant under the testimony, however, he was hardly able to say there was reasonable cause to believe that the threats would be carried out or sufficient reason for binding him over. Admitting that the circumstances had been suspicious to some extent, he would have to discharge the accused and the case against him.

One of the incidents of the trial this morning was the placing on the witness stand of Frederick Zerbil, age 84, father-in-law of August Putzkahn and an occupant of the latter's home on Hickory street. The latter testified to the defendant's good character, denying that he had a violent temper, insisting that he spent nearly all of his evenings at home and did so on the night of March 21. Former Alderman Edward A.umann acted as interpreter, as the aged witness was unable to understand English very clearly.

Plan New Auto Test.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 12.—The coming fall will witness a new motor car test of national proportion if plans discussed here today by leading spirits of the American Automobile Association go through. It is proposed that the contest take place over the highway in Long Island during the week following the Vanderbilt Cup race.

Letter to Messrs. J. L. Ford & Son, Janesville, Wis.

Gentlemen: When you see a well-dressed man, you like to say: "There's a sample of my clothes. That man is worth two of himself as he was when he came to me."

We have the same feeling. Our paint on a house is worth twice as much as old-fashion painter's paint, lead-and-oil. It looks the same when first put on. In three months it don't, in three years it decidedly don't.

Lead-and-oil chalks off in three years; it is considered a first-rate job that lasts three years.

Devco lead-and-zinc is about as good in three years as it was the day the painter laid it.

Zinc is the secret of it; no secret at all. A good many painters know zinc; some mix it in with their lead. We grind it in; not a little; good deal.

It's the zinc and the grinding that does it. You can't mix zinc by hand. We grind it in by machinery.

Painters are finding us out, though some painters are slow.

You know it pays a good man to wear good clothes. How many customers have you that know it?

Yours truly,

There may be many differences of opinion about the electric sign, just as there was about lightning, but the preponderance of evidence from successful men is greatly in favor of electric signs.

Janesville Citizens Gladly Testify and Confidently Recommend Doan's Kidney Pills.

It is testimony like the following that has placed Doan's Kidney Pills so far above competitors. When people, right here at home raise their voice in praise there is no room left for doubt. Read the public statement of a Janesville citizen:

Mrs. J. J. Doran, of 3 Linn St., Janesville, Wis., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been used in our family with very satisfactory results, and it never failed to cure pain in the back, weakness of the loins or other symptoms of kidney troubles. We have not only used them at home but I know of several other residents of this city who have tested this remedy and always with the same satisfaction. I do not hesitate to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as an entirely reliable remedy for backache and kidney troubles."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Rare Good Word For Sherbie. Found du Lac Commonwealth: There is reason to believe that Mayor Becker will not lose anything in prestige by having participated in the Busse campaign. Men who help spike yellow journalism are not going to be forgotten by sober minded, conservative people.

Mrs. Gould's Expensive Profanity. Buffalo News: Howard Gould must pay $28,000, because his wife called Abner J. Haydel a "d---d architect." Not that we contemplate using this obnoxious word, but a sense of curiosity prompts us to ask the court for the scale on lemons, vandrippers and former landlords.

Weighted Herself in Balance-Wanting. Green Bay Gazette: La Crosse by electing Dr. Anderson mayor has shown her attitude in favor of a town minus a lid. It is proposed by the majority to recognize that gambling exists but to do so in the knowledge of the fact that practices, not strictly approved of by extreme moralists, are curbed by the police. This is a policy which will evidently work but little harm in La Crosse whose citizens are of a temperament calculated to tolerate the ordinary conditions which serve as food for the rabid crusaders against vice.

Awful, Positively Awful. Rockford Register-Gazette: Just because a man has a band around his cigar it is no sign he is a lover of music.

Washing Done Right Is a Pleasure

Soaked in tepid Peosta Suds, then lightly rubbed out, rinsed and bleached, clothes are as white as the driven snow—and are saved from the wear and tear of hard rubbing. The saving amounts to more than the cost of the soap. Think of the saving of clothes, fuel, time and strength.

Use Beach's Peosta Soap

2—"Shave" a Bar of Beach's Peosta Soap into an earthen or enameled dish, pour over it two or three quarts of hot water, set on the back of range where it will keep warm, cover closely and leave until dissolved. Soap thus prepared goes farther, cleans more evenly and completely.

At Your Grocer's

Genius

Genius bears one individual and then comprehends ten.—Japanese Proverb.

Heavy, impure blood makes a muddy, pimply complexion, headaches, nausea, indigestion. Thin blood makes you weak, pale, sickly. Burdock Blood Bitters makes the blood rich, red, pure—restores perfect health; stops itching instantly. Cures piles, eczema, salt rheum, tetter, itch, hives, scabies—Doan's Ointment. At any drug store.

For a mild, easy action of the bowels, a single dose of Doan's Regulets is enough. Treatment cures habitual constipation. 25 cents a box. Ask your druggist for them.

"Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil" is the best remedy for that often fatal disease—croup. Has been used with success in our family for eight years.—Mrs. L. Whiteacre, Buffalo, N. Y.

S.S.S. PURIFIES THE BLOOD

As every part of the body is dependent on the blood for nourishment and strength, it is necessary that this vital fluid be kept free from germs, impurities and poisons. As long as it remains uncontaminated we are fortified against disease and health is assured; but any humor or impurity acts injuriously on the system and affects the general health, or culminates in some special blood disease. Pustular eruptions, pimples, rashes and the different skin affections show that the blood is in a feverish and diseased condition as a result of too much acid, or the presence of some irritating humor. Sores and Ulcers are the result of morbid, unhealthy matter in the blood, and Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison, etc., are all deep-seated blood diseases that continue to grow worse as long as the impurity or poison remains in the circulation. Some persons are born with an hereditary taint in the blood and we see the effect manifested in various ways. The skin has a pallid, waxy appearance, the eyes are weak, glands in the neck often enlarged and usually the body is not fully developed or strong, because it has always been fed on weak, impure blood. In all blood troubles S. S. S. has proved itself a perfect remedy. It goes down into the circulation and removes all poisons, humors, waste or foreign matter, and makes this stream of life pure and health-sustaining. Nothing reaches inherited blood troubles like S. S. S.; it removes every particle of taint, purifies and strengthens the weak, deteriorated blood, supplies it with the healthful properties it needs and establishes the foundation for good health. Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Contagious Blood Poison and all blood diseases and disorders are cured permanently by S. S. S. It is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, and is the King of all blood purifiers. Book on the blood and any medical advice desired sent free.

FAIR PLAY.

The American People are Noted for Their Love of Fair Play. So True Is This, That It May Be Said To Be a National Trait of Character.

The man who strikes another a foul blow, or maliciously tries to injure him in his business, or in his social standing is detested and abhorred. The American people are not generally slow to manifest their disapproval of such unfair treatment when an opportunity is afforded.

Illustrations of this disposition is the fact that although base, false and malicious attacks upon Dr. Pierce's Remedies, and his widely celebrated Family Medicines, have sometimes injured the sale of these meritorious remedies for a time, yet when such unjust assaults have been met and their falsehoods completely refuted, a natural reaction has followed and their sale has been fully restored again.

In the case of the Ladies' Home Journal, of Philadelphia, which, in 1904, published a most maliciously false, slanderous and libelous article, attacking Dr. Pierce and his "Favorite Prescription"—the well-known cure for woman's peculiar weaknesses and distressing ailments—Dr. Pierce brought suit in the Supreme Court of the State of New York against the publishers of that paper and a verdict was given the Doctor, the judgment being for a substantial amount ($16,000.00) yet not enough to properly recompense Dr. Pierce for the great injury and injustice done him. While he and his "Favorite Prescription" were completely innocent and the latter was proven in open court to contain no alcohol and none of the dangerous and injurious drugs which the above mentioned paper had alleged it contained, yet Dr. Pierce has, through his attorneys, moved for a new trial trusting that thereby he may finally be accorded a more just and adequate compensation for the great damage which he was made to suffer by reason of the base falsehoods published concerning him and his business.

There are hundreds of thousands of people all over this blessed country of ours who have been cured of obstinate, chronic diseases through the use of Dr. Pierce's Medicines and it is only natural that such people should rise up and speak their sentiments pretty freely when Dr. Pierce and his medicines are so unjustly attacked.

These grateful patients of Dr. Pierce are to be found in almost every hamlet and country village, and in the farm-houses and mechanic's cottages in every nook and corner of this great country. Common gratitude prompts them to stand up and defend Dr. Pierce and his medicines against unjust and malicious attacks.

Dr. Pierce's Medicines have been on sale in drug stores all over this country and in many foreign lands for more than forty years and yet their sale continues to grow in a substantial and most gratifying way. This could not be the case if they were not remedies of more than ordinary merit.

WHAT DO THEY CURE?

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is not advertised as a "Cure All" but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a superior and most positive remedy for one class of diseases only—those easily recognized weaknesses, derangements, irregularities and painful disorders peculiar to women. It is a powerful, yet gently acting, invigorating, tonic and strengthening medicine. Not only does it make the weak woman strong and sick woman well, but it breaks down, whether it be from too frequent bearing of children or from much worry, care, or over exertion of any kind. "Favorite Prescription" will be found most efficient in building up the strength, regulating all the womanly functions, banishing pain and bringing about a regular and healthy, vigorous condition of the whole female system. In short, it makes weak women strong and sick women well. As to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, it is a very large range of application, yet it is by no means recommended as a "Cure All." It possesses marvelous alternative, or blood cleansing, properties and is at the same time the most invigorating, tonic, and strengthening agent. It exerts a specific cleansing, soothing and healing effect upon all the lining mucous membranes of the system; hence, its great curative value in all catarrhal affections, no matter where located.

CHAPTER XXVI.

"Only an Old Joke."

On the train going home, I was nearer to castle-building than at any time since my boyhood castles collapsed under the rude blows of practical life.

My paths have not always been straight and open, said I to myself, like all others who have won in the conditions of this world of men. I shall stand erect. I shall show that the sorrows of the struggle have not unfitted me to use the victory. True, there are the many and heavy political debts I've had to contract in getting Burbank the presidency; and as we must have a second term to round out our work, we shall be compelled to make some further compromises. We must still deal with men on the terms which human nature exacts; but in the main we can and we will do what is just and right, what helps to realize the dreams of the men and women who founded our country—the men and women like my father and mother.

And my mother's grave, beside my father's and among the graves of my sisters and my grandparents, rose before me. And I recalled the pledge I had made there in the boyish beginnings of my manhood and my career. "My chance and Burbank's," said I, "comes just in time. We are now at the age where reputation is fixed; and our children are growing up and will soon begin to judge us and be judged from us."

Years of patient sowing, thought I, and at last the harvest! And what a harvest it will be! For under the teachings of experience I have sown not starlight and moonlight, but seeds.

The next morning I could not rise; it was six weeks before I was able to leave my bed. During that savage illness I met each and every one of the reckless drafts I had been drawing against my reserve vitality. Four times the doctors gave me up; once even Frances lost hope. When I was getting well she confessed to me how she had warned God that he need never expect to hear from her again if her prayer for me were not answered and I saw she rather suspected that her threat was not unassociated with my recovery.

Eight weeks out of touch with affairs, and they the crucial eight weeks of all my years of thought and action! At last the harvest, indeed, and I was reaping what I had sown.

In the second week of January I revolted against the doctors and nurses and had my political secretary, Wheelock, telephone for Woodruff—the legislature had elected him to the senate three days before. When he had sat with me long enough to realize that I could bear bad news, he said: "Goodrich and Burbank have formed a combination against you."

"How do you know?" said I, showing no surprise, and feeling none.

"Because," he laughed, "I was in it. At least, they thought so until they had let me be safely elected. As nearly as I can make out, they began the plot about ten days after you fell sick. At first they had it on this state to do me up, too. But—" the day after Christmas—Burbank sent for me."

"Wait a minute," I interrupted. And I began to think it was on Christmas day that Burbank telephoned for the first time in nearly three weeks, inquiring about my condition. I remembered their telling me how minute his questionings were. And I had thought his solicitude was proof of his friendship! Instead, he had been inquiring to make sure about the reports in the papers that I was certain to die.

"In Chronic Nasal Catarrh, it is well to cleanse the passages two or three times a day with Dr. Pierce's Catarrh Remedy, while persisting in the use of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' for its blood cleansing and specific curative effects upon the diseased mucous membranes. It cures every large or small ailment, even after they have reached the ulcerative or chronic stage, and no matter of how many years' standing they may be. It is equally efficacious in affections of the mucous lining of the larynx, bronchitis and respiratory organs in general, this curing bronchitis, laryngitis and other affections giving rise to obstinate, hang-on-coughs. It is not so good in acute coughs following sudden colds, as in the lingering chronic coughs. The 'Golden Medical Discovery' is expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption in its advanced stages—no medicine will do that; but for all obstinate hang-on-coughs due to laryngeal or bronchial irritation, and kindred affections of the throat which, if neglected or badly treated, are likely to lead up to consumption, the 'Discovery' can be relied upon to produce the best curative results."

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is from its tonic and specific curative control over mucous surfaces, especially efficacious in curing indigestion, dyspepsia, weak stomach and Liver Complaint, or biliousness. Even ulceration of the stomach and bowels has in thousands of cases been cured by it; also obstinate chronic diarrhea.

In addition to all the foregoing, not the least valuable of the marvelously effective properties possessed by the "Discovery" is the unequalled regulating and strengthening effect exerted by it over the heart's action. It has made some wonderful cures of very pronounced valvular and other affections of that organ.

The reason why "Golden Medical Discovery" cures so wide a range of diseases is made plain in a booklet sent free on request mailed to Dr. P. Y. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. If interested, send for it. The powerful alternative or blood purifying properties possessed by the "Discovery" will naturally suggest its use for the cure of blotches, pimples, eruptions, eczema, salt-rheum, and other skin affections in all of which it has made remarkable cures; also in scrofulous sores and old, open ulcers, or eating sores. To heal the latter, use Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve, a local application, while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" to correct the blood and cleanse the system. A box will be mailed to any address on receipt of fifty-four cents in stamps. If your drug list don't have it in stock, address Dr. Pierce, as above.

tain to recover, in order that he might shift the factors in his plot accordingly. "When did you say Burbank sent for you?" I asked.

"On Christmas day," Woodruff replied.

I laughed; he looked at me inquiringly. "Nothing," said I. "Only an old joke—as old as human nature. Go on."

"Christmas day," he continued; "I didn't get to him until next morning. I can't figure out just why they invited me into their combine."

But I could figure it out, easily. If I had died, my power would have disintegrated and Woodruff would have been no use to them. When they were sure I was going to live, they had to have him because he might be able to assassinate me, certainly could so cripple me that I would— as they reasoned—be helpless under their assaults. But it wasn't necessary to tell Woodruff this, I thought.

"Well," said I, "and what happened?"

"Burbank gave me a dose of his 'great and gracious way'—you ought to see the 'side' he puts on now!—and turned me over to Goodrich. He had been mighty careful not to give himself away any further than that. Then Goodrich talked to me for three solid hours, showing me it was my duty to the party as well as to myself to join him and Burbank in eliminating the one disturber of harmony—that meant you."

"And did they tell you they'd destroy you if you didn't?"

"Oh, that of course," he answered, indifferently.

"Well, what did you do?"

"Played 'em till I was elected. Then I dropped Goodrich a line. You go to hell," I wrote. "I travel with men."

"Very imprudent," was my comment.

"Yes," he admitted, "but I had to do something to get the dirt off my hands."

"So Burbank has gone over to Goodrich!" I went on, presently, as much to myself as to him.

"I always knew he was one of those chaps you have to keep scared to keep straight," said Woodruff. "They think your politeness indicates fear, and your friendship fright. Besides, he's got a delusion that his popularity carried the west for him and that you and I did him only damage. Woodruff interrupted himself with a laugh. "A friend of mine," he resumed, "was on the train with Scarsborough when he went east to the meeting of congress last month. He tells me it was like a president-elect on the way to be inaugurated. The people turned out at every cross-roads, even beyond the Alleghenies. And Burbank knows it. If he wasn't clean dirt about himself he'd realize that if it hadn't been for you—well, I'd hate to say how badly he'd have got left. But then, if it hadn't been for you, he'd never have been governor. He was a dead one, and you hauled him out of the tomb."

True enough. But what did it matter now?

"He's going to get a horrible jolt before many months," Woodruff went on. "I can see you after him."

"You forget," he said, "I answered. He's beyond our reach."

"Not when he wants a renomination," insisted Woodruff.

"He can get that without us—if," I said, "you must remember, we've made him a fetish with our rank and file. And he's something of a fetish with the country now that he's president. No, we can't destroy him—can't even injure him. He'll have to do that himself, if it's done. Besides—"

I did not finish. I did not care to confess that since Frances and I saw Granby swinging from that tree in my grounds I had neither heart nor stomach for the relentless side of the game. Indeed, whether from calculation or from sentimentality or from both—or, from a certain sympathy and fellow feeling for all kinds of weakness—I have never pursued those who have played me false, except when exemplary punishment was imperative.

"Well," Woodruff looked bitterly disappointed. "I guess you're right."

He brightened: "I forgot Goodrich for a minute. Burbank'll do himself up through that—I'd have to be in a saloon to feel free to use the language that describes him."

"I fear he will," I said. And it was not a hypocrisy—for I did not, and could not, feel anger toward him. Had I not cut this staff deliberately because it was crooked? What more natural than that it should give way under me as soon as I leaned upon it?

"Your sickness certainly couldn't have come at an unluckier time," Woodruff observed just before he left.

This Time He Shocked "Amen" Row.

Madison Journal: Wm. T. Stead, the editor and publisher of the London Review of Reviews is in this country for the purpose of working up a "Peace Pilgrimage" from the United States to the Hague peace congress. Stead visited this country about 12 years ago, and at that time wrote a book entitled "If Christ Came to Chicago," which caused a good deal of sensation in Chicago.

If You Don't Get Good Cigars Now, It's Your Own Fault

All you have to do is to stand up like a man and ask the dealer for cigars identified by the "Triangle A" on the box.

Nothing else. Nothing easier. Nothing surer.

When you say "Give me a Triangle A cigar," you are absolutely as certain of getting quality, and the same quality every time, no matter which particular brand you select, as if you had your cigars made up to order.

We have succeeded in building up a fifteen per cent. share of the entire cigar business of this country. In the face of the keenest competition, take notice. You know well enough that there's only one way we could have done it: Simply by making better cigars of every grade than any other manufacturer has produced and telling the truth about them.

And by making the strongest definite claims that any cigar manufacturer ever dared to make, and living up to them.

The one reason why we started

If you have been buying your cigars by guess-work and want to put our claims to a most practical test, just take a new start. Begin by smoking one of the best-known of all the brands that are sold under the guarantee of the "Triangle A"—

The New CREMO

Compare it fairly with any cigar sold at the same price that carries no "Triangle A" guarantee—you won't fail to see why we are so confident of your co-operation as soon as you realize just what the "Triangle A" stands for.

Every box is now extra-wrapped in glassine paper, sealed at each end with the "Triangle A" in red. The cigars are kept clean, fresh and in perfect smoking condition until the box is opened.
